Daniel Wood is the President of Church Interiors Audio and Video Inc. Dan has been serving churches as a systems contractor since 1990 when he joined Clair Brothers Audio Systems as their first installation system designer and salesman. Working for Clair Brothers Dan experienced the world's finest sound systems both on tour and for installation.

In 1995 Dan left Clair Brothers to start the Myrtle Beach office of Long Communications. With his partner Jim Bang they found a niche with the growing performance theatre market. Among the first installations were The Ronnie Milsap Theatre, The Palace Theatre and the Louise Mandrell Theatre. Before leaving Myrtle Beach for the company headquarters in Winston Salem, NC Dan had the pleasure to work for T.L. Lowery at The National Church of God a large project designed by James S. Brawley and Associates. Since his relocation to Winston Salem, Dan has been involved with projects for Wake Chapel, Clemson University, University of South Carolina, North Carolina A&T, NC State, UNC, Volvo, and The Center for Evangelism.

In 2004 Dan had the opportunity to work with a familiar company he had always respected Church Interiors, Inc. As a result Church Interiors Audio and Video was formed with a commitment to deliver more than expected from equipment performance to training and service support at a fair price. The company represents over 100 of the best equipment manufacturers in audio, video, and performance lighting including Renkus Heinz, Yamaha, AMX, Extron, Allen & Heath, Crown, JBL, Crest, Community, EIKI, Lowell, FSR, and Shure.

In 2006 Church Interiors Audio & Video was awarded the Philanthropic contribution award from the NSCA for our work with a Katrina damaged church in New Orleans. Our work was part of an ABC Extreme home makeover episode. Extreme Makeover: Home Edition
